

PA NEW OBSERVES

New Castle Fair Association directors sort of left the army of candidates out of the cold this year. Usually the fair offers a big opportunity for the candidates to meet the county voters. But this year, the fair opens the day after the primaries.

There is one rock garden in New Wilmington that is occasioning a lot of favorable comment these days. It is located along the street near the Presbyterian church, and is certainly attractive.

Work done by the street department is permanently surfacing the section of Neshaunock avenue from the end of the paving to Rural avenue looks like a fine job. It occurs to Pa News that there are other sections of street in New Castle that could well be improved in the same manner. For instance why wouldn't this be a feasible method for improving some of the streets that are much travelled, yet in sparsely built up sections. Cost of such paving apparently is not very heavy. The plan is worthy of consideration, especially as a matter of providing employment.

The Hints and Dints man comes to the rescue of Pa News. Yesterday the query was presented "How many bushels in a ton of coal?" The Hints and Dints man was the first to make reply. According to his arithmetic there are 26 bushels of coal in a ton and each bushel weighs 80 pounds.

Apparently another idea of taking care of public welfare has been found waiting. Several years ago "Crawford-Cook-Ridge" was fitted up as a home for girls by a local woman's service club. The home was remodeled, and put in fine condition for the purpose. But the girls never took to the idea of living there and it didn't prove a big success. The building has now been taken over by the county to take care of children it appears from development of yesterday, when the school board was confronted with the problem of the tuition of the children making their home there. The building is well adapted for a children's home.

Workmen have been busy for some time at the cemetery along the Wilmington road, just outside the city limits, clearing away all debris, weeds, etc., that had accumulated around the property, and the cemetery now presents a most attractive appearance.

Peaches, Peaches, Peaches! Most every farm seems to be offering peaches for sale these days. There is a crop of the finest kind of peaches in Lawrence County, more abundant than for many seasons past. It will require some strenuous work on the part of all to prevent this magnificent crop being at last partially wasted.

Enrollment in all schools of Lawrence County shows a big increase this fall. Apparently many who would otherwise have dropped their studies are returning to the classroom, due to the business depression. This is a good thing for the students, at least.

One would have thought that the Pacific fliers, whose fate still remains a mystery, were local boys from the amount of street talk this morning. Groups along Washington street and everywhere else were discussing their possible fate. Most everyone would agree the daring feat was deserving of what talk it created.

Asleep on the public square benches last night at a late hour was one sad-visaged, tired-looking stranger. The hard brench to him from all appearances served the same as a comfortable bed.

Another evidence of greater leisure on the part of many is to be seen in the increased use being made of the city library and its branches in the city.

These hot days are certainly relished on the farm where potatoes are being grown. The wet weather of a week looked like it might spoil much of the potato crop. But the hot wave coming on top of it is just right for potatoes, and means a big crop of the later tubers.

All New Castle and Lawrence County voters must remember when they go to the polls next Tuesday that there is a new ballot marking system in use this year, as a result of the action of the state legislature. The system was explained in detail in last night's News, in case you overlooked it.

Yesterday was the warmest day experienced here in several weeks, the maximum going above the ninety mark. It was quite a contrast to the weather experienced on the same day last year, when a near frost was noted, the temperature during the night dropping to 39 degrees.

The dry weather is affecting the mushroom crop, Pa News is told. The mushrooms are assuming a withered appearance.

School children who have returned to their classes in this city and county, are not so enthused about the return of mid-summer weather. It's not so enjoyable inside these days, as it would be if the weather were more nearly fall like.

Third ward firemen were called to the parking yard of the Chambers Motor Company of 825 Croton avenue, at 2:10 this morning, by an alarm from an old automobile which had been junked was burning. There was no loss, the fire being extinguished by chemicals.

Saturday, September 12 is the last day for registration in the City of New Castle and from the current of opinion in the past few days the totals of the day should equal nearly the total of the previous two days registration. This will probably be true at least in the second, third and fourth wards, where the totals thus far have run behind the balance of the wards in comparison with the population.

In the First, Fifth, Seventh and Eighth Wards Saturday can hardly show as large a total as the combination of the two previous days for the reason that registration in these wards was more than ordinarily heavy on August 27 and September 1. Here it is estimated that 70 to 80 per cent of the total registration is already on the books.

Other Wards Lighter
The Second, Third and Fourth Wards have not registered anything nearly as heavy a proportionate number and for this reason it is anticipated that Saturday will see a rush. With a possible registration of 4500 to 5000, the Second Ward has registered only 2310 thus far. Unless the Second Wards do register heavily on Saturday they will be light in comparison with the first, fifth, seventh and eighth wards. The (Continued On Page Two)

Jury Hears Evidence In Accident That Caused Sankey's Death

DRIVER OF CAR IS PRINCIPAL WITNESS

Coroners jury sitting in the case of William E. Sankey of Neshaunock Township, who was almost instantly killed Thursday, September 3, when struck by the car driven Joseph Greenberg on the Coaltown road, short distance from the home of Sankey, returned a verdict last night following an inquest held at the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz.

Verdict rendered by the jury was as follows:
"We the jury, find that William E. Sankey of Neshaunock Township came to his death, Thursday, September 3, 1931, on the Coaltown road, also known as the Mercer road, at a point near the Dinsmore railway, Neshaunock Township, Lawrence County, Pa., as a result of injuries sustained when struck by a car driven by Joseph Greenberg and we believe that Joseph Greenberg was not criminally negligent in the matter of the accident, but feel that he has been such as to have caused him to drive more slowly on a dark night."

VIENNA, Sept. 10.—Belief that Spain eventually would again become a monarchy was expressed by former King Alfonso in an exclusive interview with International News Service here today.

"For the moment I am jobless," the exiled king said with a smile, "but I have no doubt that in time the monarchy will return to Spain and that I will regain my profession."

The ex-monarch made it clear, however, that he frowned upon any attempts to re-establish the monarchy. (Continued On Page Two)

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The world disarmament conference, scheduled at Geneva next February, is already doomed to failure, James G. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany at the outbreak of the World War declared today in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

Continental Europe regards Soviet Russia as a serious menace to the peace of Europe, and so long as that menace remains the nations will not disarm, he said.

French Plan Good.
Gerard said the French plan for the League of Nations to exercise a supervisory control over the armies of the world would be a logical step toward universal peace, if the League of Nations survives.

"Europe regards Russia as a mysterious menace. When a British firm delivers 30 war tanks to Russia it is not believed that the alarmed continent will be willing to lay down its arms."

"In my opinion, the world disarmament conference already has failed."

"The French plan to give the league authority over the world's armies is the most logical move toward universal peace."

Garrahan, according to county detectives, attempted to pass another west-bound car on the Thornburgh bridge, side-swiped the machine and was thrown into the path of an east-bound car driven by Edward Mitsch, 33, resulting in a collision which demolished both cars.

The dead were Andrew Irvine, 35, Marge Irvine, 10, a daughter, and Edward J. Mitsch, all passengers in the Mitsch car.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 10.—The mystery mask of Harry Powers and other aliases, alleged slayer of widows and enigmas of the world of criminology, was partially stripped away today.

Powers—we will call him that—today stood identified as Herman Drenth, 39-year-old native of Holland, recorded as having immigrated to Iowa 21 years ago.

Identified By Picture.
Positive identification of his picture was made by Henry Kamp of Belmont, Iowa, with whom Drenth lived when he arrived from Holland. The identification by Kamp of Powers as the young immigrant boy he knew was the result of a careful investigation conducted by International News Service over a long trail.

Powers, after hiding behind a number of names, admitted his real name was Herman Drenth.

Here will follow the story of his life as told by Powers. The details were supplied by him before he was aware that Henry Kamp, with whom the Holland immigrant youth lived was telling what he knew of his boarder.

Data Checks Up.
Both stories, including names, dates and places, are virtually identical. Both stories check with the records of immigration authorities at Washington.

City Registrars Must Make Reports Early
Next Monday Morning

Owing to the fact that the last registration day in this city comes on next Saturday, and that it will be necessary to distribute registration books with the ballots on Monday, the county commissioners desire that all registrars return their books to the county commissioners' office early Monday morning.

Registrars will aid greatly by counting the number of persons registered for each party, in order that it may be known as soon as the books are returned just how many are eligible to vote in this city.

Commissioners wish it stressed upon registrars that their books must be in with the opening of their office on Monday morning. The necessity for this is seen in the fact that the registration books must go out with the ballots and the commissioners will have to cover every voting precinct in the city on Monday.

Another fact that must be taken into consideration is that a number of persons who have been out of town, or who have been unable for good reasons to register on the former registration days, have registered at the county commissioners' office.

It will be necessary, therefore, for the county commissioners to insert the names of these persons on the registration books. This will consume considerable time.
In view of all these facts it is necessary that the registrars of every district present their books early Monday morning.

ACCIDENT SCENE
ON GRANT STREET

Mary Eileen, little seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donovan of 327 North Shenango street, died Wednesday afternoon at 3:17 o'clock in the Jameson Memorial hospital, as a result of injuries sustained Thursday, September 3, 1931, when struck by the automobile of Junius Robinson, colored, of Cleveland, O., as she was enroute to St. Mary's parochial school at the intersection of Grant and Shenango streets, with her brother Thomas.

She was terribly injured at the time, but some hopes were held for a brief time of her possible recovery. Complications, however, occurred that made her recovery impossible and she passed away Wednesday afternoon after much suffering.

Mary Eileen was of a lovable disposition and her death comes as a shock to the many people who knew her. She attended St. Mary's church and St. Mary's parochial school.

She was born in this city March 3, 1924, and was 7 years, 6 months and 6 days old. She is survived by her parents and the following brother and sisters: Thomas, Lorraine, Ursula and Janet.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's church. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Fund Available For Research Work For Quick
Solution Of Unemployment

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 10.—Half a million dollars, available for research work to find a quick solution to the unemployment, was on deposit here today.

That sum was put up by Henry L. Doherty, public utilities magnate, in response to a statement recently by Roy B. Wright, president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, that such an amount was needed.

Wright said: "Engineers and scientists caused the industrial depression by invention of labor-saving devices. It is up to them to solve it."
Doherty, in announcing the establishment of the fund in the newspaper of which he recently purchased part, declared: "You will have unlimited support if you will produce anything even promising, but nobody wants to stop work at this time for the results of an academic research which may be awarded out of the picture by the return of prosperity or the death of many of those who want to see relief during the present generation."

"That's Harm Drenth" Mrs. Cort Delger Declares When Shown Picture

"He Never Used To Like The Girls And Was Never Harmful", Friend Says

By FRED LOCKWOOD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BELOIT, Ia., Sept. 10.—"That's Harm. I held him in my arms when he was a baby in the old country."

Those were words of Mrs. Cort Delger, of Kanawha, Iowa, when shown a picture of Harry Powers, bluebeard slayer of Clarksburg, W. Va., by International News Service.

"That's not the name of that boy," said her husband, pointing to the name "Harry Powers" underneath the picture. "That's Harm Drenth," he said, "and that's Harm, too," pointing to another picture of the killer.

Friends Shocked
"His folks were church-going people who ran a little store in Beerta. He is 39 years old. What's he done now?" Delger asked.

When informed of the crimes committed by the West Virginian, the retired farmer added:

"He always caused his folks a lot of worry. He wasn't even at home when his mother and sister died."

"Harm came to America in 1910 with our two boys. Cort and Harm, our oldest boy. His folks came about the same time we did, a year later."

Never Liked Girls
"He always was a fat boy, rather short. I see he's wearing glasses. He always had bad eyes. Harm was pretty smart, and learned English quickly. We never knew him to be in love."

Henry Kamp of Belmond, a lifetime friend of Harm's father, Wilko Drenth, was the first person to recognize Powers as the emigrant farm hand.

Harm Delger, who emigrated with Drenth and now is a prosperous farmer near Kanawha, also recognized the likeness of the picture.

"He had a mouth like that. He looks like his father. Harm was never a rough boy and didn't like girls. He learned English in a hurry, much sooner than I did."

The young Delger, two, was dismayed at finding his one-time companion had changed from an alert, clever youth into a brazen, arch criminal whose brutal murders have shocked a nation.

sixth ward is running about normal. The third and fourth wards are in much the same position as the second ward. While a fair number have registered, nothing like a heavy registration has occurred and in order to get out their proportionate strength these wards must stage a rally on Saturday, September 12.

Saturday is the final chance for voters who wish to cast their ballot on September 15. Unless a voter is registered by Saturday night he will be denied his vote on the following Tuesday, unless he can show sickness or absence from the city on the three days. Even then it will be difficult to get registered in the County Commissioners' office for the reason that the books must go out to the election boards on Monday afternoon. Hence the importance of registering on Saturday.

County Tax Receipts
Only county tax receipts are good for registration. City or school receipts are of no value. The county tax receipt must have been issued after November 3, 1929 to be of any value. This receipt must be presented to the registrar as proof to that official that the voter is qualified to register.

The registry booths are working on Eastern Standard Time, which means that they will close at ten o'clock Saturday night. The previous two days they were open until eleven o'clock Daylight Savings Time, but Saturday will see them back on Eastern Standard Time. They open at seven o'clock in the morning and work until nine. They re-open at eleven and work until two. Their last shift is from four o'clock in the afternoon until ten at night.

They had gone up the road about a hundred feet or so and turned around looking for the man, whom they knew they had hit but could not find him. Turning around again and going north, their lights focused to the left, they discovered the body in the Dinmore driveway. Both stated that it was a very dark night and Mr. Greenberg stated that the road was rather rough. Mr. Greenberg stated that he had gone over this road to Neshannock Falls about five or six times and did not know it was the custom of the people to use the road-way for walking, which is due to the fact that there is no sidewalk.

Albert Johnson, who resides almost directly across the road from the point of the accident told of the two young men coming to his home and telling him of the accident and also concerning the telephoning for an ambulance. Earl Book testified to being called and taking an ambulance and securing the body. W. V. Brooks told of seeing Sankey a few minutes prior to the accident as he was driving south on the road and not seeing him as he returned almost immediately. He heard of the accident shortly afterward.

William Johnson and W. Morris told of seeing Mr. Sankey earlier in the evening and a short time prior to his death and as he was on his way home. Albert Shoaf, a brother-in-law, testified as to the nature of his injuries.

Firemen from a dozen companies fought the blaze before it was finally brought under control after burning for almost two hours and threatening the entire garment district of the city. More than 50 policemen held back the throng watching the fire. Traffic was tied up for several hours.

Pretty Nashville Music Teacher Claims Wealthy Woman Hired Her

WAS TO KEEP SON FROM "GOLD DIGGER"

By HERBERT CARVIL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON Sept. 10.—One name was missing today among the characters in the story of the ultra-modern real society life drama being written around the "World's Richest Boy."

It was the name of the "enchanted," the mysterious New York "adventress," who alleged tried to "vamp" him for his wealth.

Miss Mildred King, pretty music student from Nashville, Tenn., who demands $100,000 in federal court from the millions of Mrs. Henrietta G. Hartford for "saving" George Huntington Hartford 2nd, from the "clutches" of the New York "gold digger" refused to reveal the name.

Through her secretary at her estate in Newport, R. I., where her son was a boyhood "tennis friend" to Miss Doris Duke, the "world's richest girl," Mrs. Hartford issued a complete denial and remarkable that the law suit was "one of those cases wealthy people have to put up with."

Fight Is Planned
George, the storm center, had nothing to say while the pretty music teacher in Boston declared she would fight to the finish for her "wages."

"I couldn't tell who she is," said Miss King when asked the name of the "adventress." It was a business proposition, Mrs. Hartford introduced me to her son. I, in turn, introduced him to several nice girls. Our relations were purely platonic. From time to time, I communicated with his mother. I reported the progress I was making. She seemed pleased.

Prodigy's Third

When Winifred Sackville Stoner was only six she won fame through her writings and was called as a real infant prodigy. Lately she has been in the news largely through her matrimonial adventures. She first married "Count" Philippe de Bruche, who was killed in Mexico. Husband No. 2 was Louis Hymen, whom she divorced. Miss Stoner's third mate is Earl Winston Harrison, Texas oil magnate, whom she married in Arizona the other day. Both are shown above.

Smith Is Silent On Candidacy

Says No One Has Right To Speak For Him On Next Year

VIEWS DIFFER ON HIS ATTITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Al Smith's statement that "no body has a right to speak for me," made with reference to a published story that he would not allow his name to go before the Democratic National Convention next year, served to revive interest in Democratic circles here today as to the real intentions of the ex-governor in the 1932 campaign.

In some quarters his disclaimer was promptly interpreted as meaning that he harbors the intention of regaining the nomination, if he can. Those who hold this view are mostly opponents of Smith, dry, and intensely suspicious of his every public act and statement. Their attitude today was expressed, "see, we told you, he denies that he isn't going to run."

But a much larger and probably better informed Democratic group believe strongly that Al Smith has no intention of becoming a candidate in 1932. They qualify this belief by stating that, of course, if the Democratic convention next June became stampeded and renominated the 1928 standard bearer, it is not likely he would reject the nomination after it was made.

See No Stampede

Few, however, believe that the Democratic convention next year will be stampeded for anyone. In the first place, there are too many candidates, and some of real strength. In the second place, there is certain to be a powerful bloc of anti-Smith delegates in the convention, including virtually all of those from the fifteen southern and border states. Injection of Al Smith's name on the convention would be calculated to stir up an immediate row, and that is the one thing most Democrats, whether pro-Smith or anti-Smith, want to avoid at all costs.

They believe, rightly or wrongly, that they are going to elect a president next year. They believe the only thing that can defeat them is another internal row of the Madison Square Garden type, or another schism of the 1928 brand.

Notify Mayor Of Committee Action

Mayor Will Study Plan Adopted For Providing Relief Here

Mrs. John E. Elliott, chairman of the special relief committee recently named by Mayor Gillespie today formally informed the city's chief executive of the action taken when the committee conferred with directors of the Community chest.

Mrs. Elliott's letter said that a joint meeting of the board of directors of the Community chest and the mayor's relief committee was held Tuesday. Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson presided as chairman.

Copies of the resolution adopted were sent to the mayor and followed:

A: We recommend to the mayor that a council of service agencies be organized to supervise the collection and distribution of relief work.

B: That Orville Potter's plan of distribution of relief work be followed and a copy of this plan be submitted to the mayor.

C: That the emergency fund be raised entirely separately from the Community chest fund.

The mayor did not comment on the resolution other than to state that he desired to study the plan before taking any further steps.

them when any other goes to war for purposes of aggression or legitimate defense. Nor will they ever consider placing their armed forces at the disposition of any such body.

"His error," in the judgment of the WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE, "lies in the assumption that the league can function as a super-state in time of war. As a nation of realists, the French ought to know that a European war between major powers would almost inevitably wreck the league."

"The suggestion," as interpreted by the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, "is merely that the nations carry out the proposal made more than 13 years ago when the league was formed. In the covenant of the League of Nations it was provided that in the event of a war of aggression the council shall recommend to the several governments what military forces the members of the league shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenants of the league." The only departure noticeable in M. Paul-Boncour's suggestion is that the armed forces immediately would be placed under the direction of the league, rather than remaining under the control of individual states until the time of danger arises and the league sends out the call. The Journal is convinced that the plan, "as much as it may benefit Europe, is not likely to be carried out, just yet, because of the mutual distrust felt by the various nations of the league—the same distrust which has prevented the United States from entering it."

How science advances! The mine brick we tried tasted as though the manufacturer had also included the mortar.

Ready To Try Al Capone October 5 For Tax Evasion

Indications Point To Trial Of Famous Gang Leader Being Started On Schedule

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Charged with non-payment of income tax on underworld revenue, Scarface Al Capone will go on trial Oct. 5.
Since no demurrers or other motions are in prospect, it appeared that trial would begin promptly on that date.
Capone's attorneys yesterday were permitted by Federal Judge James Wilkerson to withdraw the gang chief's plea of guilty to dry law conspiracy charges. They previously were allowed to withdraw guilty pleas to the income tax charges.
Judge Wilkerson sanctioned withdrawal of the plea at a conference in his chambers. Capone was not present.
A motion was made to quash the conspiracy indictment. Hearings on this will be held in the future.
Contrary to expectations, Capone's counsel made no request for a change of venue. The gang leader once voiced the opinion that Judge Wilkerson was "prejudiced."
Judge Wilkerson on Thursday will hear the report of the grand jury investigating Capone's huge reputed beer racket. Prosecutors hope to indict Scarface under the drastic Jones "five and ten" law.

Local Operators Have No Accidents Slippery Rock

Thirty Four Make Good Record
For First Six Months

Penn-Ohio Transportation system made a splendid record in accident prevention in 1930, the best it has made since the organized safety movement began on the lines years ago. But that was not the end, according to P-O Transportation news which says that in the first six months of 1931, a better record was made. Chargeable accidents were reduced 39 percent and accidents of all kinds including the most trivial were cut down 42 percent.
New Castle division operators who were not responsible for a single accident in the first six months of this year follow:

T. D. Allen, J. E. Miller, M. E. Bare, A. C. McClure, P. N. Brest, E. A. McConaghy, C. C. Clark, H. A. McConnell, E. A. Cooke, D. M. McCate, Roy Davis, Clark Patterson, C. E. ## Slippery Rock Students Enroll

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Sept. 10.—Dr. J. L. Eisenberg, president of Slippery Rock State Teachers college, reports a registration of 850 students September 8, the opening day of the 18 weeks' semester. The number is 85 in advance of the 1930 fall registration. Late arrivals will total the number at 900 it is expected.

An Ohio college is going to accept students' tuition on the instalment plan, but should they fail to pay, the sheriff is likely to be fooled if he expects to back up to their doors and get a wagon load of knowledge. —The Miami Daily News.

New Year Significance.
With sundown on Friday evening, September 11, Jews in every corner of the earth will commence the celebration of their religious and spiritual New Year.
The New Year's Day, or Rosh Hashanah, marks the beginning of a ten-day period of repentance which culminates with Yom Kippur the day of atonement, the most solemn day in the religious calendar.
It is on Rosh Hashanah that the Jew searches his inmost being, acknowledges his sins within the sanctuary of his heart, and rededicates himself anew to the loftiest concepts of his religion and his humanity. Tradition holds that on this day each individual's fate is inscribed in a book to be sealed on the Day of Atonement. Sins between man and God may be forgiven by God, but sins against one's fellowman must be mended between man and man.
Within the house of worship special prayers appropriate to the day are recited, a distinctive melody runs through the music of the services, and the ram's horn or Shofar is sounded. The Shofar is reminiscent of the covenant between God and Abraham, the call to duty and true piety which brings man near to God.
Unlike the secular New Year, Rosh Hashanah is given over to devotional services, to the repledging of faith, to renewal of friendships and to the universal idea of the perfectibility of man and the ultimate reward for the righteous of all creeds.

Ford Plant Has Recalled 28,000 Former Employees

Ford Company Promises Return Of 22,000 More
Workmen By Middle Of Month

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Sept. 10.—Further indications of the return to normalcy of the motor industries in this district was seen Wednesday in the recalling of 28,000 men to the plants of the Ford Motor Company and promises of return of 22,000 more by the middle of September.
The increase is not confined to the River Rouge, Michigan, plants as former employees are expected to be recalled to factories in East Windsor, Canada, it was learned.
The workers returned after a factory curtailment which had been in effect since August 1. Letters were sent about 10 days ago directing them to appear at once for assignment, work to begin immediately after Labor Day.

New men are not being hired, executives of the company declared. Only former employees who received cards directing them to appear for assignments are being given jobs.
With the increase this week, a total of 65,000 men are now on the company's payrolls.

T. C. Richards and son, Tex., claim the distinction of having plucked the largest mushroom this fall. Last year Tex found a big mushroom but it did not weigh as much as that discovered at Brent.

Mahatma Gandhi Upsets Plans Of British Friends

Indian 'Nationalist Leader
Will Adhere Only To Simple Things In London

REFUSES TO TAKE GREAT RECEPTION

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The desire of Mahatma M. K. Gandhi for utmost simplicity in all things threatened today to disrupt carefully laid plans for a reception upon his arrival in England on Saturday.

Dispatches from aboard the S. S. Rajputana revealing Gandhi's intention of traveling from Folkestone to London in the third class carriage of an ordinary railway train came as a terrific blow to the group of admirers who have been planning the reception.

All arrangements had been completed for Gandhi to be met at Folkestone by a welcoming committee and taken to London in a comfortable limousine. Gandhi, however, was quoted as saying he would go by train, characterizing the other arrangements as an attempt by Britain to prevent a popular demonstration when he arrives at Victoria Station.

Wants Simple Things
If he can be prevailed upon to change his mind, however, he will be escorted to the Friends' meeting house in North London, where some 1,500 of his admirers are planning to welcome him. Afterward, he was to be taken to Kingsley hall, Bow, where a monastic cell has been prepared for his use during his stay in London for the round table conference.

Miss Muriel Lester, keeper of the Kingsley settlement has spent weeks in making things ready for the Indian nationalist leader, the tiny roof garden on the top of the settlement house has been set aside for his meditations and prayers, screened in by trellises of vines and flowers to shield him from view of the occupants of tenement houses and office buildings which clutter the neighborhood.

In an effort to induce Gandhi to follow the program which has been mapped out, a committee has left for Marseilles to meet the Rajputana upon its arrival there.

Professor Poo Poos Dieting To Reduce

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—Ridiculing women who starve and "roll" to reduce, Dr. Augustus G. Pohlman, Professor of Anatomy at St. Louis University School of Medicine, recently described the way the law of supply and demand operate in the human body.

"The human body," he said, "is a community of cells, taking in so much oxygen and so much food, giving off carbon dioxide and waste matter."

"It doesn't matter how much you eat. Only as much food will be added to the blood as the body requires. In other words, the demand controls the supply."

"For this reason it is foolish to think that diet or exercise will make anyone slender," the doctor stated.

And when the other Roosevelt went after a tiger, he had the help of an elephant, too.

Show a Scotchman a bagpipe and he'll enter a contest. And that applies regardless of age. Here are the extremes in the Scottish music festival at Banff, Canada. ### All Not Well with Oil Well

The cameraman was "Johnny-on-the-Spot" when he secured this unusual picture in the split second during the explosion of an oil well in the Louisiana oil fields. The blast came with the "shooting" of the well and rocked the country for miles around as sheets of flame roared into the skies. It was hours before the fire was brought under control.

Cannibals Were Nice And Polite Says Mrs. Bradley

By W. F. PETERSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Cannibals may have a few unusual habits, but outside of that they are "just the nicest people on earth," in the opinion of Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley.

Mrs. Bradley, a Chicago woman, recently returned from her third exploring venture into the deep jungles of Africa.

"The truth of the matter is," said Mrs. Bradley, "that the farther we got away from civilization the politer the natives were. We started on the west coast of equatorial Africa and the farther inland we went the more graciously we were received."

"The white people have contaminated the natives in the coastal areas, corrupted their morals and their manners. When we got into the pigmy country, where the cannibals about, we were treated most politely. White men haven't as yet ruined the natives in that section, you see."

Mrs. Bradley, her husband, and Dr. Harry A. Bigelow, dean of the law school of the University of Wisconsin, trekked across Africa with two trucks and sixty native carriers.

For souvenirs, Mrs. Bradley brought back trunks crammed with fetishes, dance masks, weapons, and animal skins. She also brought several carved tables and wooden gods. The articles will be placed in private collections.

"My husband took 2,000 feet of film showing animal life and native customs," Mrs. Bradley said. "We went only through unfrequented districts. There is now a tourist trail across central Africa, very easy to travel and much frequented."

"However, we went a more dangerous way. At one time we starved for three days and had no water. We would wake at dawn with hundreds of wild natives standing curiously around us."

"We shot no wild animals, except one elephant and some buffalo. We've hunted in Africa before, and after you've done it once you've had enough. Everything is getting civilized in Africa and soon there won't be any wilderness left."

But this civilizing of the "dark-est" continent has not been completed, apparently, for Mrs. Bradley topped off the interview with the exclamation:

"Gracious! You'd be surprised if you did what I did and saw what I saw."

Retired U. S. Officer Mystery In England

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—Major Richard Jaffray, retired American Army officer, has set the rural population of Dunsfold, Surrey County, a problem they find hard to solve. In July 1929, Major Jaffray purchased "Howicks," about the largest residence in the district, for $35,000.

In October of that year he left for Bermuda, and from that day until now the locals have not set eyes on him. Meanwhile the residence and the furniture are becoming mouldy for lack of attention, while the extensive grounds are a riot of weeds and overgrown borders.

By most people "Howicks" is now regarded as a mysterious "Rip Van Winkle" home. There is no board indicating the place is in the market, and the rates and other rural charges in connection with the estate are paid regularly, and recently the fences surrounding the grounds were given a coat of white paint.

Major Jaffray, described locally as a man with dark, flashing eyes, had been in the habit of wintering in Jamaica. It is believed he is in ill-health.

Under ultra-violet rays eggs can be hatched from one to two days earlier than those placed under ordinary incubation methods.

Rev. T. R. Francis At Gospel Church

Rev. E. C. Anderson, pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, announces that Rev. T. R. Francis of Japan will be the speaker this evening at 7:30 in the church on Pearson Street.

Dr. Francis has a collection of colored lantern slides, which he has taken from scenery and people all over the world and his lecture with the illustrations, is one of the most interesting ever shown in the city.

He has also slides for a number of hymns, which made the singing of them more soulful and heart reaching.

One reason why the scenery seems more wonderful in Europe is because you don't have to read it.—The Ashland (Ky.) Daily Independent.

Franklin Has More Students

Increase In Student Enrollment Shown At Franklin Junior High

According to a hurried check made Wednesday at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school and at the New Castle trade school, there is a slight increase in the number of students enrolled this year, as compared to the number last year.

There are 1684 students in the junior high school and 88 students in the trade school, making a grand total of 1772 students in the two buildings. Last year on the first day of school, 1631 students enrolled for junior high and 120 in the trade school. Although a decrease is shown in the trade school enrollment, an increase of 20 some students is indicated in the total.

Wednesday was a day of excitement and activity for the great student body. For many of the students it was their first day at junior high and they had quite a time finding their way to the various classes through the many corridors of the huge building.

The faculty was kept busy checking the enrollment, organizing the classes, answering questions, helping arrange courses of study, etc. Mrs. Betty Mallowd of West Alexander and Miss Annetta Dadds of Beaver Falls were unable to be present because of illness. They will take up their duties on the faculty in a short time.

NEW CASTLE FAIR WILL OPEN NEXT WEDNESDAY

Wednesday, September 16, marks the opening of the annual New Castle Fair and while the election may hold the public interest until mid-night on Tuesday, the fair will replace it in public attention on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

For weeks the fair authorities have been busy painting barns, clearing parking spaces, readying the race track and preparing the stalls which will hold the exhibits and Lawrence Countians can be assured that this year's fair will be well worth seeing.

Races To Please

While there are some who prefer the cattle barns to the poultry exhibit and others who prefer the canned goods department to either of the other two, all of them agree that the races have a universal appeal. Horses will be shipped in here from the fairs that are now running and the speed lists will show some fast steppers on the cards.

In addition to the harness races there is a possibility that running races will be staged. This has not been definitely settled as yet and will not be until Saturday night but the very fact that there is a possibility of such thing appeals to the lover of fast horses.

The cattle and stock barns will be filled to overflowing this year. The entries have almost swamped the clerks in charge and for the visitor who likes to see the prize Short-horns, Jerseys, or Black Angus the New Castle Fair this year offers plenty of attraction.

And The Midway

The midway will have its usual appeal. No fair is complete without the usual crowd of hot dog stands, palmists, Pete the Dodgers, weight guessing experts, wild men from Borneo, and the rest of the natural and artificial freaks. And the midway will be large and entertaining.

On Thursday and Friday evenings, Troop F, 103rd Cavalry will stage a rodeo as a night attraction. Rough riding, trick riding and vaulting will be on the list with thrills enough to pack a trunk.

Automobiles will be parked free this year so that motorists need fear no extra "gyp" for parking their car. There will be plenty of parking attendants who will see to it that the cars are parked and guarded against accidents.

The fair promises well and with the present weather prevailing it should be a mecca for thousands. The following committees have the fair in charge:

Concessions and Merchants Hall—J. A. Boak, supt., W. H. Atkinson, C. M. McCormick.

Elisha Dyer Hubbard(International News Service)
BAR HARBOR, Me., Sept. 10.—After a whirlwind courtship of ten weeks, Miss Muriel McCormick, a granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, and Major Elisha Dyer Hubbard of Middletown, Conn., will be married here today.

Hubbard is a wealthy gentleman farmer, 50 years old. Miss McCormick is in the early thirties.

The wedding will take place at Deep Cove, summer home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. McKinnock of Chicago.

The Rev. Mr. Patterson, who is rector of St. Saviour's Episcopal church, said the ceremony would be private, only a few close friends of the bride and groom attending.

Major Hubbard was expected to obtain the wedding license early today.

Preparations Rushed

It was learned that Miss McCormick wrote her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick of Chicago, that she was to be married and asked her to make the announcement. Six hours after Mrs. McCormick followed her daughter's wishes, the announcement came that the wedding would take place today.

Elisha Kent Hubbard, Louis Dekoven Hubbard and Mrs. Clarence Wadsworth, brothers and sister of the groom, who are regarded as the three wealthiest persons in Connecticut, were expected here for the wedding. Neither Miss McCormick or Hubbard could be located but at the McKinnock home florists were discovered delivering flowers and preparations for the ceremony were being made.

Mayor William Gillespie's crusade against autoists who speed in school zones started off early this morning, when Motorcycle Policeman Criswell took into tow an Ohio car driver, and as a result he was incarcerated in the city jail. He was fined $10. The mayor yesterday stated that "the lives of children must be protected." The arrest this morning occurred in Grant street.

In connection with the campaign against speeding, particularly in the school zones, traffic officers stated that all the zones have been marked off. Signs have been placed on telephone poles and there is glaring notification that automobilists are operating in school zones. The marking of streets was done by Mark Butler under the supervision of J. Ed. Elder, captain of police.

What is a new undertaking for the Hickory Heights Parent-Teacher association is the Flower show, which will be held Friday evening in the Hickory Heights school.

The flowers will be judged by Mrs. W. C. Eckenrode, Mrs. William Howley and Mrs. W. C. Kennedy and the vegetables by Harold McCulloch, farm agent.

There will be no other meeting of

Big Rally Is Being Planned By Pershing Club

All Ex-Service Men Of County Are Invited To Attend Meeting Friday Evening

What will undoubtedly prove the biggest meeting yet held by the Pershing Club of Lawrence County, which comprises the ex-service men of the county, regardless of their time of service or military affiliation, will be held Friday evening at eight o'clock, eastern standard time, in the courthouse.

This will probably be the last meeting of the organization prior to the election, and big rally will be held, invitations having been issued to all ex-service men of which the Pershing Club has record in the county.

Vice President Harry M. Long, who will preside in the absence of President Homer C. Drake, issued an invitation to all ex-service men who have not received a written invitation to attend anyhow.

Near 600 Granted Use Of Coal Strip

Commencing Next Week Requests Will Be Handled Only On Wednesdays

County Poor Relief Director M. B. Hogue and General Chairman J. K. McQuiddy of organized labor's unemployment relief staff have granted 575 men permission to dig coal at the Croton surface strip, county-managed for the winter, at 10 o'clock today.

A total of 410 had been approved before Mr. Hogue acted on 165 additional requests at private hearings in the Trades and Labor hall yesterday.

More unemployed men who visited the North Mill street labor headquarters today were registered among the jobless. Chairman McQuiddy announced he would continue the registration all day Friday.

Commencing with next week, the offices will open only on Wednesdays for the sole purpose of receiving and handling applications to dig at the Croton coal field. The county poor director will set aside all other work to receive and pass on the requests at the labor rooms on that particular day.

A plea to generous citizens to offer financial aid toward supplying soup or some other sort of hot food for the more unfortunate coal diggers at the mine, was made by McQuiddy today. He pointed out the necessity for it and promised his co-operation to any public-spirited person who would agree to contribute funds or effort to such an undertaking.

Italian Games To Be Feature

The Knights of St. Vitus will hold a "500" and bingo party at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the church hall and arrangements have been made to take care of a large crowd.

An interesting sidelight will be the Italian card games such as Tressetti, Scoppa and Briscola.

The feature of the evening will be the awarding of a wrist watch. The men who will be rewarded for their hard work will be as follows: Thomas Maglieri, first prize; Gabriel Armando, second prize; Alex Natale, third prize; Joseph Pagli fourth prize. The prizes will be awarded by Rev. DeMita.

Refreshments will be served by the young ladies of the parish during the evening entertainment.

Thayer Files Suit For $6,553 Against Apollo School Board

Seeks Pay For Plans Drawn For School Building In Apolo

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., Sept. 10.—Albert Thayer, New Castle architect, today had suit for $6,553, for salary alleged due him from the Apollo school board, filed in Armstrong county court.

The suit charges that Thayer was employed by the school board to draw up plans for a new high school building just completed in Apolo and which will be opened for school next Monday; that he drew preliminary sketches and made trips to Harrisburg to confer with heads of the Department of Public Instruction.

On April 10, 1930, the suit avers, Thayer was discharged and another architect from Blairsville employed. He charges he was ordered to stop plans for the building when citizens in Apolo filed an injunction against the board restraining it from building the school on the old McLaughlin site. The injunction subsequently was dissolved.

H. L. Golden, attorney for the school board, said no written contract ever had been made with Thayer and that the board had attempted to effect a satisfactory settlement out of court but felt the $6,553 for which Thayer asked was excessive.

Firemen Battle Serious Blaze On Lawrence Ave.

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 10.—A fire of undetermined origin caused some serious damage to a building owned by Edward Schweiger on the corner of Sixth street and Lawrence avenue at 11:45 last night. The greatest damage to the three-story brick building was done in the basement, above which is a department store operated by Mr. Schweiger. Loss to the building, was estimated at $1,000 and the stock in the basement, which belonged to the department store at about $6,500.

The second floor of the building constituted apartments which at the time was occupied by three families—Mrs. Ada Hershley, Samuel Laman and William Menice. A screaming parrot in the rooms of the latter awakened the family in a room of smoke. Mr. Menice immediately notified remaining residents of the building who rushed out into the streets.

Some heavy smoke was observed about town about 9:30 but no significance was placed on the matter due to the nearness of the railroad tracks. Later it was discovered that smoke was issuing from the basement of the building. The local fire department, which is located one block from the scene responded immediately and began to clear the building of human life. It was late and their efforts to reach the center of the fire instantly was prevented by the barred doors and windows. Several streams of water were poured into the building before the fire was subdued.

Mr. Schweiger is one of the oldest merchants of this community. He had used the basement of the building as a storage room for his department store. The greatest damage was done to his stock there. It is not known whether insurance covers the loss.

No one was hurt during the excitement.

There were several speakers from New Castle present, and just as the meeting was nearing a close, smoke began to trickle in the back door of the Legion rooms. In a few seconds there was a cry of fire and the meeting adjourned without a motion, the legionnaires assisting in getting the occupants of the building out of the smoke-filled halls.

Says Depression May Force Women Back To Hearth

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Business depression may result in women being forced back to the hearth, Miss Mary Lathrop, white-haired pioneer woman lawyer of Denver, predicted last night. She said:

"If there are thousands of men out of jobs it is not unlikely that jobs will be taken from women and given to men. Then women can go back to the homes—where they would have been all the time if they had had their way about it."

Miss Lathrop, one of the first women to be admitted to membership in the American Bar Association, stopped here en route to Atlantic City to attend the association's convention.

City Officials In Philadelphia, Pa., Have Cars Swiped

Mayor And Police Magistrate Find That Auto Thieves Are Quiet Bold

BOTH MACHINES ARE RECOVERED

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—Embodied by recent successes Philadelphia automobile thieves victimized the mayor and another city official last night.

The mayor's swanky sedan, painted a canary yellow with red stripes and black fenders, was stolen from in front of his home in West Philadelphia, under the nose of a patrolling bluecoat.

A short time later the expensive private machine of magistrate Thomas Usilton was filched from in front of the home of Police Inspector William J. McGowan where he was visiting. It was recovered early today.

The mayor's machine was found abandoned later this morning, with barely enough gasoline remaining in the tank to remove it to a police station. It was recovered several miles from the mayor's residence.

If only parked peddlers were as hard to hold up as they are to hold down.

Quart Jars Are Scarce Article

Heavy Demand By Home Canners Drains Supply Of Some Dealers Temporarily

Although plenty of pint jars for canning may be obtained from local wholesale and retail grocers, quart jars today are reported as scarce.

The situation is one of the most unusual in the history of the city, and is reported to be nation-wide. The manufacturers have been swamped with orders this summer, due to the tremendous surplus of fruits and vegetables and the many home-canning projects under way over the country.

As a result, quart jars, which are the family-sized favorites have been speedily bought up, and today finds very few quart jars obtainable at any store in the city.

Wholesalers stated this morning that the situation is not alarming, however, as there will be a plentiful supply next week, and orders have been placed. One wholesaler stated that a carload which they received Monday was sold out in a few hours.

Mrs. Schumaker Writes Hymns Police Court Spectators Usually Disappointed

Another hymn, the composition of Mrs. Emilie Schumaker of Gardner has just come from the Frank Harding Press of New York, this one "A Robe of White." The hymn contains three stanzas and a chorus and is one that should prove popular with church and choir singers.

Mrs. Schumaker is also the composer of "A Glad Tomorrow," a hymn which has received favorable comment and attention. The music for "A Robe of White" is written by R. A. A. Keller.

New York isn't heartless. It represents having gangsters shoot down people who are too young to kill.

Nova Scotia was first to establish the use of daylight saving time.

"If they're in hope of hearing 'spicy tales,' they'll be disappointed, at least, while I'm mayor of the city," said His Honor, William H. Gillespie today when asked, "What is your impression of those 'Perk Ears' who collect in the police station every time some unfortunate lands in John Law's arm?"

"They come because they are curious, but they never hear any 'spicy tales' because such wouldn't do the public much good. Of course the final action must be said and taken in the courtroom" and the mayor.

Whenever a girl or a woman is taken into custody the news travels like wildfire and when the case is scheduled to be called for trial the "regulars," or the "Perk Ears" are parked in the police court room.

Boys who become embroiled in trouble and are first offenders do not receive the start from the curious. Instead they are taken to a rear room and questioned. The same covers the case of erring girls.

Great Service At Energy Tent Wednesday Night

"Democracy Without God Not Safe For World" Says
Evangelist

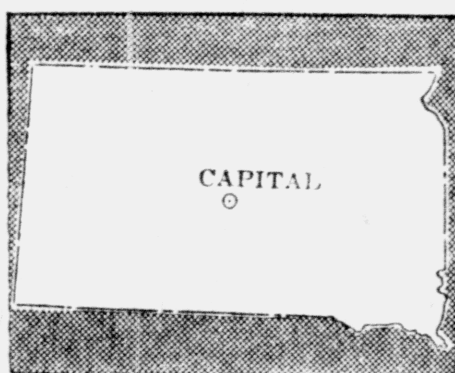

Last night was the greatest service held at Energy revival, where Evangelist Oliver E. Williams, Ph. D., S. T. D., D. D., and his evangelistic party of Erie are holding a big tent meeting under the auspices of the Greenwood Methodist Episcopal church, where Rev. S. R. Maitland is pastor.

In his sermon on "The Mark of the Beast" last night Dr. Williams declared that we are living in the last times, that the anti-Christ theology had produced an anti-Christ political system which in turn would produce an anti-Christ political leader; that all Europe is being prepared for the appearance of such a person now. During his reign of three and a half years oppression will be everywhere. To buy or sell men will have to wear the mark of the beast. Democracy without God is unsafe for the world.

The service was introduced last night by the peeling notes of the cathedral chimes, then the whole audience joined in singing the campaign choruses, "Glory to God", one of Mrs. Williams' compositions. Mrs. Williams and Prof. MacMurray sang several duets, using the guitars. "Mac" sang the salvation song with the harmonica and guitar. Mr. Samuel Burroughs sang "The Gospel Ship", by request. The musical program was climaxed with a trumpet solo by Mr. MacMurray. He played his own arrangement of "Master the Tempest is Raging". Mr. Swart, the accompanist, assisted in playing the wind and storm effects in this number.

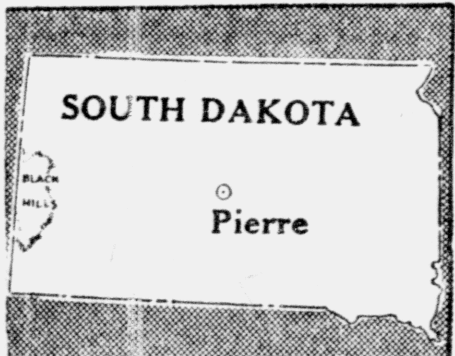

Tonight Dr. Williams will speak on "The Three Crosses". The invitation is extended to all to attend these services every night at 7:30 and three great services Sunday.

Soap, Water Deemed Best Antiseptics

Health Expert Lauds Qualities Of Common Germicide

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
We hear a great deal about this or that substance killing germs and being used as an antiseptic. So we use tincture of iodine or witch hazel or bichloride solutions or carbolic acid and a host of other things. Yet all the while one of the best antiseptics we have is the easiest and most readily obtainable—soap and water.

Surgeons have said that for a long time. Most of them thought, however, that the action of soap and water as a germ remover was mechanical. The scrubbing and washing combined with the action of the soap in uniting with the grease and oil so that they could be readily removed was what caused the disappearance of the germs.

Evidence has been brought forward, however, by the work of Walker, that the chemicals of soap itself have the property of killing germs, comparing favorably with many of the chemicals that have been heralded at least in advertisements as crowning achievements of modern chemistry.

All kinds of soaps were tested and found about equally effective. White soap, perfumed toilet soap, laundry soap, coconut oil and olive oil soap. Their power was tested against the germ-killing strength of carbolic acid as a standard. They were, of course, not as powerful as that, but considering everything they were marvellously effective.

They kill pus germs, diphtheria, influenza, pneumonia germs, the germs which cause venereal diseases and several others, when they are on the hands, the skin generally, on eating utensils, pots, pans and vessels of all kinds. Just a plain half per cent soap solution was found by Nichols during the World war to remove influenza bacilli, pneumonia and pus germs from the mess kits.

The elbow grease used in cleaning these utensils is, of course, also a factor in making them germ free after a washing.

When you make an ordinary thick lather in washing your hands you have a soap concentration of 1 to 12. Now soap concentrations of 1 to 80 or even higher are effective in destroying bacteria. So with a good lather you have an extremely good germicide on your hands.

The same thing applies to shaving. The fact that shaving so seldom results in skin infections is due just as much or more to the fact that during the process you have covered your face with a thick germ-destroying paste before you begin, as to the healing lotions you use afterwards.

Warm water increase the germicidal actions of soaps and hot water. A French surgeon, Renard, feels so confident in the germicidal power of soaps that he uses the base sodium oleate in the treatment of open wounds.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. F. A. J.: "I do not have an appetite and can not eat breakfast or lunch so I take an egg for each meal in the form of an eggnog malted milk. Will that do me as much good as eating eggs in solid form?"
Answers: Yes. The malted milk adds the carbohydrate, which the egg lacks and makes a well balanced meal of about 200 calories.

C. W.: "I have spastic constipation. Will you please tell me the kind of diet I should use?"

Answer: The diet is fully described in the pamphlet "Diets for Indigestion and Constipation," issued by the Central Press Association, Cleveland, O., for 10 cents a copy.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Femine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

"I WAS determined to have a clear skin."
"Some one told me of S.S.S. . . . now I am so glad the last pimple is gone."

Of course you want a clear skin. Everybody does. It helps you win and hold friends. It makes for greater popularity.

Whatever treatment you may use for your complexion, remember the important fact that skin health depends upon the right number of red-blood-cells.

You cannot be low in strength and be happy—let's be happy.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

You should know that S.S.S. has the distinct advantage of being composed of fresh vegetable medicinal ingredients in concentrated form . . . it is Mother Nature's formula.

Why not start taking S.S.S. today?—the larger size represents a price saving.

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

Chilean Naval Revolt Is Quickly Squelched; Will Punish Offenders

Situation In Chile Has Returned To Normal—Mutinous Sailors Have Surrendered

Communists Succeeded In Getting Naval Men To Stage Revolt Against Wishes

EDITORS NOTE: International News Service presents herewith an authoritative account of the naval revolt in Chile and the present political situation in that country, written especially for International News Service by Vice President Manuel Trucco, now the acting president of the Chilean Republic.

By MANUEL TRUCCO
Vice President of the Republic of Chile
Written Expressly for International News Service
(Copyright 1931 by International News Service)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 10.—The situation in this country has now returned to normal, since the revolt of some of the navy's warships ended with the unconditional surrender of the crews concerned.

Just now the landing of these mutinous sailors and the replacement of them by crews loyal to the government is taking place, and an active investigation is under way to ascertain the origin and tendencies of the seditious movement.

Facts Revealed
Information reaching the government up to this time enables us to state the following facts:

Some school teachers of the primary schools went on board the navy ships and succeeded in inducing a group of Sergeants and other subordinate officers to revolt, and these in turn induced a small part of the crews to mutiny. Then, through audacity and by force, they dominated and overcame the rest.

At midnight of the 31st of August,

Monday to Tuesday, the mutineers surprised and arrested Admiral Campos, chief in command of the active fleet; Commodore Hovén, and the commanders and officers of all the warships anchored in Coquimbo harbor. The officers were asleep in their beds when the mutineers overpowered them.

Movement Spread
The movement began on the armored vessel La Torre, the strongest unit of the fleet. Then, from the La Torre the mutineers armed detachments to impose the revolt upon the crews of the other vessels. The crews of these ships were unprepared, and were forced to participate in the movement notwithstanding the adverse opinion of the majority of the men.

At the beginning the rebels submitted complaints only against the proposed reduction of pay, the quality of food served them, and on similar matters. Later, however, they proposed changes of a political and economic character which showed their lack of knowledge of the true facts, and a visible discordance of views among the promoters of the revolt.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

To William Reiber of 605 Allen street goes the credit of recalling his personal recollections of the cloudburst that swept the city in 1861 and played havoc with the Erie Canal and some of the homes adjacent to the Canal. The cloudburst occurred during the night and the rush of waters was of such a character, that the people in the Moravia street district adjacent to the canal and Big Run Creek were compelled to flee for safety. Phillips Hill, now the location of the New Castle hospital, and that institutions nurses home, was the point of safety to which men, women and children of the threatened area fled and found safety. The water was several feet deep and practically all the homes in the district adjoining the canal in the Moravia street flat were damaged by the rapidly rising and raging waters. The home of Henry Olliphant, which was located about where the bridge over Big Run Creek is now located on Moravia street, was washed down the run and practically destroyed. The canal burst forth from its banks and Big Run became a raging stream, which was relieved only when the canal aqueduct across the run at a point near what was one time the east end of the old Gardner avenue grade bridge over the Shenango river gave away from the pressure of the water of the run and permitted the waters to pass more freely into the Shenango river. The result was that the waters had risen to their height and receded within a comparatively short space of a few hours. The damage done to the canal put it out of commission for a time.

Park Pavilion Open This Week

Manager Anxious To Secure Rail Service Into Cascade Park

Although it has been the custom to officially close Cascade Park following the Labor Day celebration, it is stated by Carl Shaner, manager, that the pavilion is still in operation and the park dances will continue all this week. Due to industrial depression the numbers of picnics this year did not rate up to those of former years.

Shaner said that the park is anxious to secure railroad service direct to the park. It is probable that negotiations with the B. & O. railroad officials will take place during the winter.

Appoint Proctor For College Dorm

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Sears Get Westminster College Positions

(Special To The News.)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 10.—Dr. Charles Freeman, acting president of Westminster College, announced yesterday that Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Sears of Wheaton, Ill. have been appointed proctors of Robert Audley Browne hall, freshman men's dormitory.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sears are graduates of Westminster College. Mr. Sears has taken graduate work during summer sessions in education and mathematics. Mrs. Sears has taken graduate work in library science at the University of Illinois.
For the past 10 years, Mr. Sears has been engaged in business. He was section chief for the Western Electric Co., ran a retail dairy business of his own for some time, and for the last four years has been cashier and office manager of the National Triangle Securities Co.
Mr. and Mrs. Sears are members of the Congregational church. Mrs. Sears has two sisters and a brother serving as missionaries under the Presbyterian church in Persia. Mr. Sears has, for 10 years, taught a large young's men's Bible class in the College church, Wheaton, Ill. He has also been a member of the Y. M. C. A. executive committee.

A suite of rooms for the new proctors have been made in Browne hall during the summer, and Mr. and Mrs. Sears will be resident deans of the hall. In addition to his duties as proctor, Mr. Sears will also be purchasing agent for the dormitory cafeteria, his fine business experience fitting him admirably for this work.

Browne hall will have a capacity group of freshmen men as residents this year. Of the 210 freshmen already enrolled, more than 80 men have already reserved rooms in the dormitory. The appointment of proctors this year is a new method of handling the hall, and will, it is thought, be the best yet tried.

Hunting Good Water In Creek Coen Says

Coen Believes Poisonous Water Drives "Water Dogs" To New Holes

Frank Coen, deputy game and fish protector for the county of Lawrence, when asked today about the presence of so many "water dogs" in the Slippery Rock near Mudlick Creek expressed the belief today the "water dogs" have gone there to find good water.
He reported previously that heavy rains which got into mines and which later flowed into "runs" caused the death of fish. The game and fish protector said that no doubt the "water dogs" travelled out of the bad water zone.

Boys who have been at camps along the Slippery Rock have been spearing and killing the "water dogs." On one day an aggregation of boys killed 38 and another big killing was made on a day following. It is said that fish will not stay where there are "water dogs."

Pennsylvania Leading As Tree Planting State

(Special To The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—Pennsylvania, according to the American Tree Association, is, with one exception, leading all the other states in the planting of trees to mark the George Washington bicentennial next year.

According to the report of the Tree Association, 7,691,885 such memorial trees have been planted in the country as a whole in response to the campaign to achieve the goal of ten million. This is at an average of one tree per 16 persons, based upon the 1930 population count.

In Pennsylvania, on the other hand, 1,725,368 trees have been reported as contributed toward the ten million goal, or an average of about one tree per every five residents. These figures reveal that Pennsylvania is doing far more than her share in this planting project.

New York, with 3,011,373 trees planted, is the only state reporting a greater total number of trees planted for the memorial project than Pennsylvania.

Less handicapped nowadays

"New ideas on personal hygiene responsible," says doctor

THE DOCTOR in a leading women's college was comparing this generation of girls with those of 25 years ago.

"We don't have nearly so many illness excuses from girls nowadays," he said. "Girls have learned how important it is to keep their systems functioning normally at all times. And at times when they are most likely to be upset and thrown off balance, they take special measures."

What doctors advise girls to use on such occasions is Nujol—a spoonful every night for several days before-hand helps to keep everything normal even under abnormal conditions. For it contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. Perfected by the famous Nujol Laboratories, 2 Park Avenue, New York City. Try this treatment for the next three months, and see if it doesn't make things much easier for you.

Be sure you get the genuine.

Your Money Can Earn 30 Per Cent Interest

The Story is This:—

Mrs. A. buys an article for $75.00 on "installments" payable monthly, because it is so "easy" to pay that way, having a year to pay for it.

Mrs. B. prefers to pay cash and instead of buying now opens an account at the DOLLAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, paying $1.50 per week for 50 weeks and gets 5% interest on her money, equalling $1.57.

She then takes her check which she gets at the end of the 50 weeks and makes her purchase, and because she pays cash she gets a discount of $7.50.

This saving plus the interest on her savings nets her over 30% interest.

Result—Thrifty Mrs. B. has $9.07 extra to spend while Mrs. A. has none.

Thrifty folks save their money with us and get 5% interest on their money.

Do You Remember the Days--?

WILL WE SEEM AS FUNNY A HUNDRED YEARS HENCE AS THE LAST CENTURY SEEMS TO US?

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN WE USED TO HAVE COB-WEBS IN THE CORNERS OF HALLWAYS AND PANTRIES, AND PULL DOWN THE COBWEBS, AND PUT THEM ON CUT FINGERS?

CAN YOU IMAGINE ONE OF US TODAY ATTEMPTING TO ENGAGE A NURSE, WITH THE PHRASE "AND OF COURSE, YOU'LL SLEEP IN THE ROOM WITH THE SEVEN YOUNGER CHILDREN, AND IN THE BED WITH THREE OF THEM?"

Inventions Quickly Appear as Need Arises, Fifty Years' Records Show

INVENTION has followed invention so closely during the last half century that it seems as if a halt must come and time be given to adjust the forces so called into being. The birth of the man of 50 antedated the commercial life of the typewriting machine, the telephone, the incandescent lamp, the electric railway, the cash register and cash carrier, the linotype machine, the phonograph, the camera, smokeless powder, acetylene gas, the automobile, the basic steel process, the rotary web-perfecting printing press, the perfected dynamo, the wireless telegraph and the airplane.

A Forecast.

It appears that in this country nearly 1,000,000 patents for new and useful inventions have been issued during the last 50 years; in the previous 75 years only about 150,000 patents had been issued.

So closely does invention follow industrial requirements that seldom is an article wanted without being soon supplied. We can thus forecast the trend of invention if we know fairly well the directions in which progress would have practical value.

Interesting possibilities in color photography are at the open door, and the young woman of auburn hair may not much longer complain that her peculiar beauty is not shown in her photograph. The tricolor printing processes of today will soon become multi-color printing processes.

Great advances will be made in the arts relating to the manufacture of food. There will be steady progress in dyeing fabrics in fast colors from coal tar products; in the production of mercerized cotton, the fibre of which will be greatly increased in strength and given a lustre like that of silk; in processes for preserving food compounds, and in better and cheaper methods of canning fruits, vegetables and meats.

Motor Vehicles Promising Field.

Among the devices and arts which will be most rapidly improved are motor cars, electric railways, electric lighting, electro-chemistry, automatic machinery, refrigeration, utilization of compressed air and the storage battery.

A promising field for inventive energy is that relating to motor vehicles. In the opinion of some experts, the complete development in this line will not come until a light, durable and cheap storage battery is invented, for these contend that the ideal motive power for motor vehicle is unquestionably electricity. Electro-chemistry is perhaps the most promising field for inventors, since it discovers means of improving and cheapening the production of much that ministers to the comfort of mankind. It is only within the last 25 years or so that this has become a distinct science. Inventors who are both expert chemists and expert electricians will in the next 50 years do much for the world.

Liquid air may be further utilized, but at present such commercial value as it has is found in its application to the art of refrigeration.

All systems of electric lighting now in commercial use are exceedingly wasteful, since much of the developed energy produces heat rather than light. Improvements in this art are imminent. As everyone knows, there is a form of electric light that proceeds from the vacuum tube, which is caused to glow by induced currents of high frequency, or by actual conduction of a low tension current through rarefied vapors. These lights give a beautiful, soft glow, filling the whole tube.

A HOUSE TELEPHONE—A BREATH-TAKING CONVENIENCE

Practical chemists have been working with the old kaolin light, and their work is certain to result in the introduction of this for many purposes; and it is not at all impossible that it will eventually become a standard system of electrical illumination. A mixture of oxides has been substituted for kaolin as the light-emitting element or glow. The expected advantages are perceived in the fact that the glow is in effect and incandescent, incandescent light filament which requires no vacuum globe for its protection, and which can be made so detachable that the renewal of the lamp is as easy as the substitution of a new tip in a gas burner, the glow itself not being much more expensive. Moreover, the light is much more brilliant than a carbon filament lamp. It is much brighter than the incandescent lamp and not as dazzling as the arc light. It does not, however, equal the lamps of which the filaments are made of rare earth and metals.

Electric Lighting.

The wireless transmission of telegraphing or otherwise causing mechanical effects at a distance, presents a field for invention theoretically without limit, inasmuch as the propagation of waves takes place in every direction from the source and to infinite distances. It is all a question of the sensitiveness of the receiving apparatus. As the energy radiates from the source into space pull out easily, 3 is stronger because the nails enter the side grain, 4 is very weak, but is the type usually entirely covered with sheathing, otherwise worthless. Five and 6 show the "three-way-corner," very strong and effective.

the most marked advances in optics is the motion picture machine, and this may be still further improved. Already the motion picture machine and the phonograph have been made to run in harmony, so that the moving image appears to talk or sing. Another step will be the representation of the natural colors of the object, not by painting the picture, but by adapting to the camera the principles of color-photography. This has in some measure been achieved.

Prism lights are receiving attention, owing to the extreme height and great breadth of buildings. Many rooms are so far below the opening of the light well as to be unpleasantly dark. By means or sheets of glass provided with a series of prisms extending across them light otherwise lost is gathered and directed in any desired path.

Debt to Inventors.

This century will probably see as many wonders as the last part of the nineteenth century saw. The world owes as much to inventors as to statesmen or warriors. To them the United States is the greatest debtor, so much have they advanced American manufacturers. Their labor-saving machinery does work that it would take millions of men using hand implements to perform.

With a voice ranging over five octaves, from one note higher than Madame Patti's highest, to lower than the previous record bass, a 44-year-old Viennese male singer has been attracting much notice.

The intricate science of optics is of never-ceasing interest. One of

Cat's Loyalty May Equal Dog's

SOME people contend that a cat has no intelligence, such, for instance, as a dog sometimes displays; that it has no instinct beyond mousing; no affection except covert love inspired by appetite; that it is selfish, lazy and greedy, an ungrateful creature to its friends and a nuisance to the neighborhood. Such people have never learned the real nature of a cat.

Tabby's Intelligence.

One of the best of the revelations of Tabby's intelligence has been vouched for by the criminal records of France, which relate to the sensational identification of a murderer by the victim's pet cat. In the early half of the last century there dwelt in one of the suburbs of the city of Lyons an old maiden lady, relic of the "ancient regime," which had been supplanted by the followers of the French revolution.

This ancient dame, still known as the "Countess," lived alone in a small cottage, her only companion being a large white Angora cat. It was known, however, that as a last relic of her former grandeur she possessed a handsome necklace, composed of diamonds and emeralds, which she had managed to save from the wreck of her estate, and which had been a family heirloom for a couple of centuries.

One morning, however, the pair failed to take their daily stroll to the butcher's and the baker's, nor did they make their appearance during the entire day. Thinking perhaps the little old countess was ill, a kindly disposed neighbor called at her home. Receiving no response to his knock and finding the door locked he secured the aid of a neighbor and entered the house through a window. Then to the horror of the investigators they found the body of the countess stretched full length on the floor, with her throat cut from ear to ear.

On the top of a near-by dresser was the white Angora, her fur bristling, while she emitted low growls as she viewed the neighbors examining the body of her mistress.

Every effort to induce Tabby to leave her place was unavailing. She refused all food and consolation but grimly sat the drastic watch over her murdered mistress.

Then the great French detective landed in his dragnet a couple of villains who were missing from Paris at the time of the murder, and in accordance with police methods of that day, the suspects were brought to view the remains of the victim.

As they were forced into the room one of the prisoners loudly and profanely vociferated his objections.

Tabby Attacks.

At the sound of his voice Tabby, with bristling fur, and wildly waving tail uttered a shrill growl and fairly dying from the top of the dresser, sprang and clawed his legs, as she tried to reach his face.

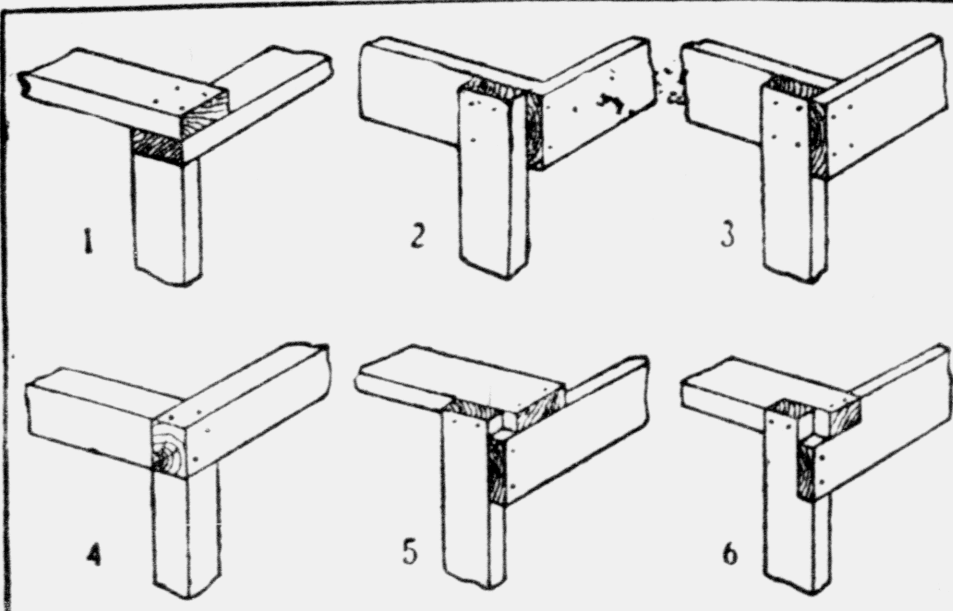

With a shout of rage and trembling with fear the man struck at Tabby, and shouted "take that devil away."

Tabby had to be fairly forced to abandon her attack and continued her strange action so long as the man remained in the room.

The wild looks, the nervous demeanor of the prisoner convinced the detective he had the murderer, and when he accused him of the crime the villain broke down and cursing the cat, confessed.

So soon as the hand-cuffs were tied down beside its mistress' body and softly purred as though telling her departed friend she had avenged her death.

TO BUILD THE BEST SHIPPING CRATE

MUCH attention is just now being paid to the strengthening of crates and packing boxes, and an article in Business which says that the "packing engineer" is now an important official in all big shipping concerns, gives some examples of new ways of building the crate. In the diagram above 1 and 2 are weak because the nails are driven into end grain, 3 is stronger because the nails enter the side grain, 4 is very weak, but is the type usually entirely covered with sheathing, otherwise worthless. Five and 6 show the "three-way-corner," very strong and effective.

Expect State Police To Return To City

Although no official announcement has been received here it is reported that as soon as the coal mine situation simmers down a detail of State police from Troop D will return to New Castle. Except for brief periods there have been State police stationed here for years.

The detail which consists of Privates Henebeck, Richards and Zelensky was stationed at the Colonial hotel.

When there was a flareup in the western Pennsylvania coal belt all details were ordered to Butler. Some of the men were sent into the trouble zones and others were kept at the troop barracks, ready for service.

Lieutenant Buttner is reported to have stated that "New Castle will get State police back as soon as the barracks feel them back" which means evidently when the situation quiets more in the coal belt.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the stomach. Gas floats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skiffers breaks out in pimples. Your bowels ache and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

Take June's good, old, CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain no harmful, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name, Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

EVERY SHRED is 100% WHOLE WHEAT

Every part of the whole wheat grain supplies elements that are needed by the human body—the starch and gluten for heat and energy; the inner bran coats for phosphates and other mineral salts; the outer bran coat for the needed "roughage"; the germ for Vitamin B and protein for building and repairing muscular tissue. All these portions of the whole wheat grain are present in Shredded Wheat.

EAT the finest, fattest grains of wheat you can find—and you are receiving no more healthful nourishment than you get from Shredded Wheat. In fact, Shredded Wheat was invented so you could have natural whole wheat in tasty, digestible form.

Selected wheat is steam cooked, shredded and thoroughly baked—that's all there is to Shredded Wheat. All of the health giving properties of the original grain are retained. All the bran is there, all the carbohydrates, proteins and mineral salts—and the most important vitamins, too. Serve Shredded Wheat with milk and you have a complete, balanced food.

Star Lore

ELEMENTS OF A PLANET'S ORBIT

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
When the astronomer knows the following about a planet's orbit, he can determine its position at any time, past or future: (1) Orbit's semi-major axis (half the greater diameter); (2) Orbit's eccentricity, or how far the elliptical path is out of center with the sun; (3) Orbit's inclination
(tilt) to the plane of the ecliptic;
(4) The longitude (on the celestial sphere) of the ascending node (or point where orbit cuts the plane of the ecliptic); (5) The angle from the ascending node to the perihelion point (or point where planet's orbit approaches nearest to sun); (6) The period (or time it takes planet to go around its orbit); (7) The epoch, which is planet's mean longitude as seen from the sun at a definite given date; or time when planet passes its perihelion.

Babe Ruth Hits Homer As Yanks Topple Giants

Ruth Swats Out Homer As Part Of Successful Exhibition In Stadium Battle

UNEMPLOYED GET HEALTHY SUM

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—It looked today as though Babe Ruth had written himself another $80,000 a year contract.

The great hitter again proved his worth, poling a healthy homer as the climax of the Yankees' 7 to 3 defeat over the New York Giants in their $59,642.50 battle for the unemployed.

In Chicago 24,865 fans paid $44,489.10 for the jobless to see Charlie Root of the Cubs wreck the White Sox single-handed. Root let down the Americans with six hits and drove in all of the Cub scores. Frazier, Frazier and Thomas furnished the Bruins with 12 safeties. Root shared the glory with Cuyler and English, who staged spectacular plays to stop threats of the home.

Senators Top Reds
In the regular schedule only two games were played, Pittsburgh flipping the crippled Brooklyn team 5 to 1 in the National league and Washington stopping the Athletics 2 to 1 in ten innings in the American circuit.

Crowder mastered Walberg in the Senators triumph and the Washington hurler also drove a single to bring in the winning tally.

Meine limited the Robins to five hits, permitting only two of the enemy players to get past first. Heimach for Brooklyn allowed seven hits, of which L. Waner grabbed three, including a homer.

So far Sech in the backfield, Hordig on the line, Rzeiznik in the backfield and Lockner also a linemen have made a good showing in the workouts. Coach Johnston with several inexperienced men is facing a big task in selecting eleven boys to represent Shenango high on the gridiron this season.

Williams Stars Blank Cunningham

"Batsy" Parker entered the hall of fame Wednesday night when he hurled the Williams All Stars midget team to a 3-0 victory over the Cunningham A. C. on the Gaston Park field.

The Cunningham team failed to get a hit or a run off the offerings of Parker. G. Greger also hurled a good game for the Cunningham team limiting the Williams to three hits. Dan DeFalco with a homer and Jumping Joe Nocera with a triple led the attack for the winners.

Westminster Football Team Looks Good, Hold Stiff Session In Heat

Coach John D. Lawther is all business as he goes about the task of whipping a good looking Westminster College football team into shape for the opening battle of the year on Saturday September 26. Despite the heat of Wednesday afternoon the Titan gridderers were put through a regulation scrimmage session. The result was 0-0.

Westminster is going to have a sweet looking football team this year. Maybe not a championship team, but one that will display a lot of class. The team is somewhat green. On the varsity lineup yesterday they were about two or three lettermen and the remainder were freshmen. Glenn Shaffer handled the team at quarterback. Refhus was on the line. Hamas was on the line.

Sweeney Looks Good
The backfield problem was made a little easier yesterday when Jim Sweeney a former South High Youngstown grid star made his appearance in camp and proceeded to give the varsity boys something to worry about. Sweeney was given a chance to display his wares as a varsity back and made quite an impression on Coach Lawther and Line Coach Dart. Ketterer on the second team backfield also looked good. Art Sillman former New Castle boy directed the play of the second team as signal barker and gives promise of developing into a valuable man. Rush, another backfield star from somewhere in Ohio reported yesterday and looked good.

The Westminster line is going to be just as stalwart this year as last with several new faces. A boy named Hallman from Alabama looks good at tackle. Dishong is finding himself and making a strong bid for a varsity line post.

Tough Scrimmage
The coal past have been erected and the field will be lined off. It is likely that regular scrimmage will take place every day from now on. The tackling dummy and line-horse makes the Westminster training field impressive looking this year.

The first and second teams could not score yesterday in the scrimmage venture. They played nip and tuck football all the time. There was not much to choose from on the lines. One was about as good as the other.

The Tri-State Conference will do well to take Westminster seriously this year as far as grid game goes. Slippery Rock is the first game at Westminster field. Lawther is anxious to make a fine start as a grid coach at Westminster and is giving his best to the team. He is not a task master, but insists on the boys being all business.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10.—The Pittsburgh Pirates ran their victory string to eight straight the longest run of the season, at Forbes Field yesterday afternoon when Meine and Lloyd Waner combined to make a miserable afternoon for the Brooklyn Robins. The score was 5 to 1.

Meine had a fine curve working and allowed the Robins but five hits. He pitched a perfect game and batted out a homer and two singles had things his own way.

A meeting will be held Friday night. Should a professional team be formed in this city it will mark the first time the city has had a professional eleven on the field.

Forty Gridders At Ben Franklin

Coach Emmett Gillaspie Issues Call For Candidates Wednesday Afternoon

Wednesday afternoon marked the first workout for the grid candidates of the Ben Franklin high school. Coach Emmett Gillaspie's call for gridderers was answered by 40 boys.

The opening workout Wednesday at Taggart field was light. Calisthenics took up most of the time. Coach Gillaspie stated that it is too early to make any predictions on what kind of a team he will have this season. The latter part of the afternoon was spent passing, kicking, running and falling on the ball.

Titan Harriers Card Four Meets

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 10.—Four dual meets are on the schedule for the Westminster College varsity cross country team this fall. Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald states. Three of the races are carded for October, and one is in November. Only one meet is over the home course.

Allegheny College is met at Meadville on October 10 as a feature of the Allegheny-Westminster football game. Grove City will be run at New Wilmington on homecoming day, October 17. Carnegie Tech harriers will be run over the Shenley Park course in Pittsburgh on October 31. The Titan harriers will be guests of the Skibos at the Notre Dame-Tech game in the afternoon. Geneva will be met at Beaver Falls on November 21.

Champion Daddy

"Keep your chin well down and your eye on the ball," or words to that effect, is what Francis Quimet, newly crowned national amateur golf champion, is saying to his 7-year-old daughter, Janice, as he gives her a few pointers in the game that made him famous, at his home in Auburndale, Mass.

Quimet was given a royal welcome upon his return from Chicago after defeating Jack Westland for the national title.

It won't be long now until Bill Dennell and Homer Gray, buckle down to hard training for their tilt in the V. F. W. show, September 23. Merle Gibson will tackle Jack White of Sharon. Walter West will probably meet Vito Marzine and it looks as though Johnny Jennings and Billy Joyce, formerly of Youngstown will clash in another bout.

Johnny Banks is being groomed for a crack at some light weight. Joyce would have been matched with Young Erley of Youngstown had Chuck Edmuns signified a desire to have Tommy Arnold clash with Jennings.

Running wild in the last two chuckers of an otherwise hard fought polo match at Westbury, N. Y. Stephen Sanford's Anglo-American Huronians started their defense of the U. S. open polo championship by routing Earle A. S. Hoppins.

Sand's Point combination. The score was 10 to 9 and the defeat put Sand's Point out of the tournament.

Youth is going to pre-empt in Carnegie Tech's football eleven this fall, according to reports from the Plaid Judge Wally Stoffen, head coach is casting for a young and fighting combination, regardless of previous reputation and experience.

Last year the judge had virtually an all-star aggregation which dropped three games and seemed unable to shake off the lullaby caused by the defeat at the hands of Notre Dame before the campaign was halted.

He wants a team that will treat defeat merely as an unpleasant experience and a stepping stone to future successes. Alex Ducenas at center and captain Armentrout at halfback are the only seniors who are absolutely sure of their jobs. Stewart and Lewis look good and Croft is almost sure to be a tackle. Henry Dresher and Carl Forsman are pushing the veteran Don Fletcher. Clyde Heimert, Butler, moved from guard to center.

The score by innings:
Enon Valley.....200 01-3
Ryantown.....040 03-12
Home run—Buck.
Two-base hit—McKay.
Double play—Buck to Mibuck to Watt.
Stolen bases—Thompson 2, Ziegler 2, Maher, Todd, Herno.
Errors on balls—Off Herno 1, off Buck 1.
Struck out—By Herno 8, by Buck 1.
Umpire—Homer Gray.

GRIDDERS HAVE LIGHT WORKOUT

Weather Forces Coach Bridenbaugh To Send Gridders Through Light Workout

Hot weather Wednesday afternoon caused Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh to send his New Castle high grid candidates through a light workout at Taggart field. Only a short time remains before New Castle will open its season against Corapolis high Friday night, September 18 at Taggart field, and heavy workouts will be in order for the next week or so.

Wednesday afternoon's workout was made up mostly of exercises and small drills. The boys were divided into different groups and games were played with the football.

Third Game Of Series Saturday

Universal Sanitary Optimistic Of Winning Third Game Of County Series

Fans are eagerly awaiting Saturday afternoon when the third game of the Lawrence County League championship series will be played at Centennial field. The Universal Sanitary team with two triumphs hopes to win the third game which will give it the title over the Shenango Posters aggregation.

Playing championship like baseball the Universal surprised the baseball populace of this city by winning the first two tilts of the series. Should the Universal win the third game they will be crowned the 1931 champs.

The Shenango team is preparing for this encounter. Carm. Sacco stated today that he will present his strongest lineup in the hope of avenging for one of the defeats.

Expect Shields To Defeat Doeg

One-Year Reign Of Johnny Doeg As Tennis Champion May Come To End Today

By MICHAEL J. FOSTER
International News Service Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—John Hope Doeg, California's bronzed redwood, who has reigned as king of American tennis for one none too glorious year, is due to step down from his throne this afternoon, when the quarter-finals of the fiftieth annual men's national singles championships are contested.

Unless the "dope" is thrown for a complete loss Francis X. Shields, the lanky New Yorker who Doeg beat in the memorable 1930 final for the title, will beat the champion. And the most turbulent reign of a tennis king in the history of American sports will thus be brought to a close.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

If Gotham fans can view the current pennant races with naught but sadness because their three big league entries failed again to catch the Athletics and Cardinals they have but to dry their tears and consider 1932.

The outlook for next season for the Giants and Yankees is exceedingly bright. Today these two clubs show greater improvement over their early season form than do any of the other major league outfits. No question about it.

If John McGraw's minions present as powerful a front next April as they do today, the Giants and not the Cardinals will be favored to win the pennant. While the Yankees are not yet up to the high standard of the Athletics, they appear now to be the team with the best chance of stopping the Mackmen next season.

The Giants pitching staff has greatly improved this season. Jim Mooney, one of the new men, promises to become a star. Jim Chaplin, not exactly a new man but one who has never been a great boon to the New Yorks, seem to have found himself. Adding Fred Fitzsimmons, Bill Walker, Clarence Mitchell and Carl Hubbell, McGraw promises to have just about the best pitching staff in the National League next year.

The infield find of the year was made by the Giants. He is Johnny Vergez, who came up from the coast this season, and has proven a sensation.

Bill Terry has fought his way to the top of the league batting lists after a long slump. With Bill hitting in top form the Giants are bound to step faster. Bill's real pace setter.

And remember, the Giants have made their present great drive to catch second place without the valuable services of Freddy Lindstrom and Hughie Critz! With these two back—how the New Yorks should travel!

The Yanks will make preparations for the 1932 campaign with an improved pitching staff, a stronger, faster infield defense and a harder hitting outfield than they possessed last April. This cannot be said now of Washington and Cleveland, the only two other clubs who have the ghost of a chance to make things

NEW YORK STOCKS

Today's Market Is Somewhat Unsettled

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—An early rally in the industrial shares today was followed almost immediately by a sinking spell in a number of the speculative favorites, including General Electric, American Telephone and Telegraph, and Westinghouse.

Absence of distinctly favorable industrial news and the passing of the Rock Island dividend unsettled the Railroad list, and Rock Island tumbled 9½ points to 20½.

Westinghouse fell off about 2 points to a new low at 54½. General Electric fell off nearly 2 points and at 36 stock was only fractionally above the 1931 low. General Motors made an effort to recover and sold close to 33 in the first period, but it required little selling pressure to force "big motors" under 32.

St. Louis San Francisco fell off 2½ points to 10, in line with the weakness in Rock Island, in which it holds a substantial stock interest. Baltimore and Ohio dropped back 1½ to 36½, the lowest price in ten years.

Upsets in the Industrials did little more than wipe out the early advances of a point or two and the noon level was only slightly below Wednesday's average prices. The wave of selling in the Rails died out and Rock Island rallied from 20 to 24.

Cotton moved up about 8 points and Grain was steady. Call money was unchanged at 1½ per cent.

Congressmen Oppose Park In Wyoming

(International News Service)
JACKSON, Wyo., Sept. 10.—Wyoming's congressional delegation will oppose attempts to create a federal park in the Jackson Hole country, members have assured local business men.

The Snake River Land Company, said to be backed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has been acquiring land in this vicinity for several years with the intention of presenting it to the government to be used in the establishment of a national park. Richard Winger, resident agent, explained the plan to the Wyoming delegation and to approximately 250 residents of the Jackson Hole region present at the meeting.

Opposition comes from Teton county taxpayers, who maintain that such a plan would deprive the county of taxable lands to such an extent that county government would be impossible.

That freedom of speech is something to be enjoyed by simple men.

TOTAL OF 1,049
ON SCHOOL ROLLS

Union township's high school and seven elementary buildings, records disclosed Wednesday, have an enrollment of 1,049 students for the new term as compared with 860 last year. Prof. Roy P. Conway, supervising principal for the township announces.

At the Union high school alone, where 375 for some time has been the peak enrollment, a total of 453 are attending the grade, junior high and high school proper classes. There are 39 seniors in attendance.

Faculty No Larger
Despite the notable increase in students, it was pointed out by the teaching staff for both the Union high building and the scattered grade schools has been increased none whatever. The faculty register reveals 30 names.

Three teachers who commenced their work at Union when the term began a week ago are the only new members of the instructional corps. Supervising Principal Conway said. They are: Miss Sara London, vice Mary Mitchell, transferred here from New Wilmington high to teach civics and gym work; Miss Margaret Montgomery, vice Miss Inez Stern, Grove City college graduate, teacher of shorthand and typewriting, and Merrill Young, vice Miss Mary Beadel, Edinboro State Teachers College graduate, teacher of English and art.

While a week has passed in the new term's schedule, Mr. Conway announced that efforts to reassemble and organize the school's extra activities have not yet been attempted. It is expected that these will be taken shortly to form the usual student clubs.

Gridders On Jump
Activity this week centers in the pre-season football practice sessions which Coach David M. Boyd has inaugurated for a squad of nearly 40 grid recruits who responded to his call. Grid drill and scrimmage workouts are being held daily at the Union grounds under the direction of Mr. Boyd, assisted by George "Peg" Thomas.

I have every bit of confidence in these new boys, the Union coach said Wednesday afternoon. I'm certain our team will be able to handle itself on every field it plays on this year.

The Union gridders will inaugurate their heavy 1931 schedule when they play Ellwood City at Ellwood on September 19.
An auditorium program for the entire Union student body, at which general announcements and arrangements for future school work will be made, was scheduled for this afternoon. Principal Conway said regular programs would soon be started.

The assemblies at Union take place in the combined auditorium-gym, where a new double gymnasium floor was laid during the vacation months.

Building Enrollments
Attendance figures for each of the Union township grade buildings and for the high school classes at the Scotland Lane school were announced yesterday as follows:

White school, 74; Sunny Avenue school, 169; Harbor school, 45; Fairview school, 32; Washington, 38; Linden Grove, 32; Scotland Lane grade school, 45; and Union high, 614, a total of 1,049 for the district.
At Union the freshman class numbers 91 students; the sophomores, 83; the juniors, 62; and the seniors, 39. The seventh grade in the Union high building with 92 enrolled claims the largest enrollment of elementary classes at that building.
Township students are transported to and from their homes each day in busses maintained by the district, driven by faculty members at the Union school.

Superintendents Visiting Schools

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling and Assistant C. P. Ball have already started on their rounds of the schools of the county. The superintendent and assistant desire to cover as many schools as possible before the teachers' institute which convenes in the Union township high school building the week beginning on October 5.

One of the fallacies of the early pioneers of this country was that Irish potatoes were green. However, they may still be wrong if they think they aren't for one young lady of the city turned out a flock of them for dinner the other evening as green as a college Freshman.

It seems that the day before she had been dyeing some dress goods green and used an aluminum kettle for the process. After the dyeing she cleaned out the kettle and set it aside.

Next day she decided to cook up a flock of potatoes and used the kettle in which the dress goods had been dyed. When the spuds were finished they were a picture of verdant beauty, but as eating potatoes they were worth a little less than nothing at all.

The bronze works official who seems to sleep with his pipe in his mouth, and conducts an open forum in a hotel lobby about three times a week?

The lawyer who usually eats sitting on one leg?

The jeweler who is never wrong when he plays bridge?

One of the queries concerning the lawyer who walks with his hands back of him was answered by a lad who remarked that he couldn't get them in front of him.

Somebody can help a lot if he will just develop a cucumber that has no prickles on it, and climbs trees. All that will be needed then will be a cucumber gun with which to shoot the pesky things.

Local Cannery Buy Nearly Half Million New Jars

With bumper crops of vegetables and fruit existing this year, New Castle home canners have been making the most of the situation to lay aside the greatest store of canned goods that has ever been put up here.

A survey of local wholesale and retail dealers this morning reveals the fact that upwards of a half-million new jars have been sold in this community already this season, with the supply of quart jars almost exhausted at the present time.

It is safe to predict that almost all the additional quart jars purchased by local dealers will be sold out as fast as they arrive in the city, and in addition many more pint jars will be distributed.

Most every housewife in the city has approximately a half dozen jars in stock for every new one which will be purchased this year, some of them a great many more, so it would not be far wrong to state that three million jars of fruit, jellies, vegetables, and pickles, etc., will be put up by housewives of the New Castle community this year, if all of the available jars are used.

MY NEW YORK BY JAMES ASWELL

Central Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—If this column sounds a little odd, it is because it is dictated. Dictation always seemed to me an elegant and high-toned way to write, but my attempts in that direction never came to much. The process of calling out phrases to a stenographer, however comely, always became as unsatisfactory as scratching one's head through a derby.

Now, though, flattened out with a severe bronchitis and running a temperature, the whole business takes on the air of a daily bulletin from the bedside, and becomes rather exciting. My only regret is that I have no operation to tell you about.

Being ill in New York is as bleak as you have imagined it might be. The stone and steel morass is as indifferent to human suffering as the story-books would have you believe. Your friends disappear. You are left severely and desperately alone. It develops your bank account is $238 overdrawn. Your physician is annoyed and curt to discover you show no signs of becoming a surgical case.

As a result of all this lack of attention, you get well two or three days sooner than you would in a small town. Dull visitors never come in to sit on your feet and raise your temperature with gab. You are not dosed ceaselessly with the nostrums of friendly and kindly amateur doctors.

You lie on your back and feel sorry for yourself and rest and recover. The only other place where a bachelor receives less gratuitous and tiring attention than he does at home in New York is in the average New York hospital, where he receives none at all. At home you can at least get up and get yourself a drink of water.

STRANGE PEOPLE.

There's Billy E. Miles, the 9-year-old tow-headed snake-lover, who is making the women cry "Eek!" at the mere mention of his name around New York. . . . Billy, the human-interest news writers have discovered, travels to the Bronx Zoo regularly for a session of snake-petting. He's only happy with a king snake draped over his shoulder. Says Billy, "Aw, they're nice, and they're funny! They feel cool and dry on your neck—just like they were wrapped in cellophane."

There's Freddie Ziegler, who is so blue-blooded a sportsman that he asked to have the story of his martial difficulties run on the sporting pages.

Thompson Buchanan, Joan Lowell's "ex," gives large house parties at which it is a cardinal breach of etiquette to "act married."

Elizabeth Alexander, authoress of "Roles," whose new novel will shortly begin in the Satevepost, went to Brenau College and later taught there, but this fact she never recalls either in printed biographies or conversation. She has a "mad" on the place.

A hacker whose cabstand is near Beekman Place reveals a small collision with the news:
A few night ago, his vivid blonde fare leaned forward at her destination and rasped, "Tell me the truth, now! Do you know who I am?" The driver stared at her and shook his head. "So help me I don't!"

"Thank heavens! I thought for a moment you recognize me as Ruth Cranmer."

My respect for the gentlemen who sort and deliver the mail mounts daily. Of course, it is necessary to be mildly famous in order to discover at first hand how wide-awake the post office men are, and how they keep up with the times. However, even I have been amazed on more than one occasion by the quick wits and ingenuity of that fraternity.

It is true Al Smith gets letters addressed "Al, New York." And Believe-It-or-Not Ripley receives curious mechanical devices, together with turnips resembling the Chrysler Building and potatoes which look like the DO-X, dispatched under no other address than their own oddity. The resourcefulness of the mail sorters is, however, more subtle than that. Mail addressed to the inhabitants of the Beaux-Arts Apartments here gets through whether the name is spelled BozArts or BooeArts or Buck-Arts, or even, as I have once seen it, Brer Hearts.

On the other hand, I once mailed some papers to myself from Paris only to have them return to me there, in care of the American Express, with this rubber-stamp on the envelope, "Party unknown, return to sender."
